ADVISER

LIFE AT PERRY HIGH 1959-1960 . . .

Life at Perry High during the 1959-60 school term — this, the theme of "The 1960 Clock," parallels Life magazine. Why was this theme chosen? This publication, like Life magazine, is aimed at collecting under one cover in copy and pictures the most important events, organizations, and individuals associated with them. Unlike Life magazine whose field of coverage includes the entire world "The Clock" is mainly concerned with a much smaller area — Perry High School, the people who give life to its many and diverse activities, giving life to the school itself.

However, it is necessary that we do not disregard the world about us completely. For just as Perry High is an important part of the community, it is an important part of the state, the nation and the world. So as we recall the happenings and situations of the past school year, we must also recall the conditions that existed in the world during the 1959-60 school year.

Life at Perry High had many phases and each was unique . . . life in the classroom . . . during study halls . . . between classes . . . during lunch periods.

Life at pep rallies . . . games . . . after-the-game parties.

Life at club meetings . . . assemblies . . . play practice.

Life at dances . . . beatnik . . . Sadie Hawkins Day . . . Christmas formal . . . queen dances . . . finally the prom . . . and the climax . . . graduation.

In the following pages, you will find as the staff of "The Clock" wants you to remember . . . Life at Perry High 1959-60.

The junior-senior prom is the most beautiful and colorful event of the year which everyone looks forward to attending. Some of the many girls who dressed in their best to attend were (seated) Cheryl Blackburn; first row: Joanne Starkey, Susie Schrady, Jane Cunningham; second row: Sue Wycoff, Charlene Selinsky, Cathy Olden, and Gail Gussett.

LIFE

AT PERRY HIGH . . .

REVOLVED AROUND THE STUDENTS

In September Perry opened her doors to students, and like a smooth running machine another year began. In other parts of the country that machine needed overhauling. Little Rock schools were closed and many students were deprived of education with a few more fortunate students attending private schools.

Dick Clark was still the teenagers "great white father" and locally, teen centers and high schools held dances weekly for "rock and rollers."

Interest and concern increased for the mounting delinquency problems and an attempt to set up a national code of ethics was on the planning board. Locally one step further was accomplished with the issuance of a book of ethics to all high school students in this area.

Junior Achievement groups more than doubled in this nation of ours, while overseas the very struggle for existence continued. Rumblings of revolt and uprising in South America and Africa were heard from the people of these lands, thirsty for the taste of self-government and equal educational privileges.

The school levy and bond issue were approved assuring Perry Township of a new junior high and additions to Watson and Whipple schools. The operating levy will provide the much needed money for the continuance and operation of the schools.

Study is the main factor to good grades, thus students used their time wisely in the quiet surroundings of the library.

LIFE

AT PERRY HIGH . . .

WAS INFLUENCED BY TEACHERS AND ADMINISTRATORS

Mr. Burris,
one of the nicest
teachers and persons that I've had the pleasure of knowing.
Best of everything.
Earl
11A0

Earl Richman was one of the many students who received advice and guidance from Miss Wood, student guidance couselor this year.

Life at Perry was influenced by the teachers and administrators. Perry is generally known for the fine relationship between students and faculty and this atmosphere has given many boys and girls added courage and inspiration. The guidance department took on more importance with the appointment of Mr. Burris to a full time position and Miss Wood as counselor for girls.

While students at Columbia University were seeking the reinstatement of assistant English professor, Charles Van Doren, who was under fire in congress after admitting complicity in the rigging of TV show "Twenty-One," Perry High was busy laying the educational foundation for future Werner Von Brauns, and engineers for a greater Cape Canaveral of the future.

The administration tirelessly pushed the bond issue and levy in order that not only the present schools remain open, but that we have much needed additional room for providing the best of learning conditions for each and every student.

LIFE

WAS PUNCTUATED THROUGH DEVOTION TO THE SCHOOL

Mr. Bowen—
I have enjoyed algebra more than I expected. I have to admit — I'm not "afraid" of you anymore as I was at the beginning of the year.
Best of luck,
Shaya

Life at Perry High displayed a great devotion to school and community by increased membership and interest in service and honor organizations. The band accelerated school spirit at pep rallies and half-time shows, while the Key Club provided the football fans with programs. The Tri-Hi-Y decorated a Christmas tree for the school lobby and collected food for the needy in the community. Future Nurses provided holiday gifts for a local rest home.

Some excellent school assemblies were sponsored by the student council which was also instrumental in setting up several school policies.

The newspaper, The Panther's View, which in 1959 won first place award in the annual Quill and Scroll Society contest, did a great job of public relations by keeping the student body informed and alerting the community as to what was going on in our school. The yearbook staff, in producing this year's annual, hopes it has been able to portray a sense of pride felt by all students.

As we display devotion to our school and community, we look back to May 27, 1959 when a truly great statesman, John Foster Dulles, was laid to rest. His life was one of utmost devotion to his country.

LIFE

Life at Perry High was highlighted by plays, dance and the elections of the queens and their attendants. The year was climaxed by the prom and graduation.

While "Gypsy," "The Flower Drum Song," and "Our Town" were being presented on Broadway, at Perry High Miss Beverly Watson was doing a magnificent performance in the lead of "The Bus Stops Here," presented by the senior class. The junior class play was presented on February 4, 5.

In the fall, life was accentuated by the beauty of the falling leaves. It was also accentuated nationally by the beauty of Miss Lynda Lee Mead who was chosen Miss America of 1960. Our own Miss Cynthia Trace was elected Ohio All-Star Queen of 1959 and Miss Theresa Marchione was elected 1959 Football Queen.

LIFE

WAS MORE INTERESTING THROUGH CLUBS

AT PERRY HIGH . . .

The Future Homemakers of America, one of the many interesting clubs at Perry, sponsor a very inviting tea.

Perry's Key Club represents part of the well-known national organization.

Life at Perry High School was concentrating on reaching higher goals while hoodlums in New York were causing riots and gang-fights. The students at Perry were engaged in serving others, working for leadership abilities, and putting their talents to work usefully through their many promotional club activities. These students were getting better acquainted with each other, acquiring new interests, and keeping away from trouble.

Our G.A.A. helped everyone start the Christmas season in joyous spirits by giving us our Christmas formal. The Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by F.H.A., brought to us an evening filled with laughter and enjoyment.

The nationally known Teen-Age Board had as its president in Canton, Tom Murphy, a senior at Perry. Our own Senior Class President, Bruce Miller, was selected as November's Teen-Ager of the Month.

Helping the Tennessee mountain regions, the Tri-Hi-Y was successful in putting on a clothing drive.

LIFE

AT PERRY HIGH . . .

WAS EXCITING IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Life in sports at Perry High consisted of moments of jubilant happiness and moments of disappointment. The powerful football team of Syracuse University came to national prominence because of their strong defense and highly mechanized offense. The Panther football team, although having a losing season, displayed at times the spirit and fight of a championship team.

Basketball at Perry was a success since the team had an exciting season. Although the team didn't repeat the performance of the 1958-59 team, which won the class AA league championship, they played very well under their new coach Don Cable.

Life in baseball and track at Perry was of the climatic nature as the winning of the world championship by the Los Angeles Dodgers. The baseball team had a fair season coming from behind to win some games. The track team competing against some fine teams had a poor season in dual competition, but in the county meet the cindermen did better than expected, picking up a few first places.

DEDICATION

PAT F. MATTACHIONE

"He gave the greatest gift of all . . . the gift of himself." This quotation perfectly describes one of the most outstanding teachers of Perry High whose giving of his talents, accented by his zest for living, brought many firsts to the school. His journalism ability he lent to the newspaper and yearbook staffs, both which he founded and has since advised. He has also served as adviser for Quill and Scroll, another organization which owes its appearance at Perry High to his efforts. These time-consuming activities, plus a seven-class schedule would seem to be enough for any ambitious teacher. However, his ever-expanding interests, his concern for the future of Perry High, and the students therein have been responsible for many other milestones in the shaping of our young school. The long hours, the sometimes unappreciated efforts . . . but . . . never a complaint . . . his concern and enthusiasm for the school and the students he backs . . .

It is thus, with humble gratefulness, that we dedicate the 1960 Clock to Mr. Pat F. Mattachione, truly a great man in our midst.

CLASSES

Life began at Perry High School for the 1959-60 year on September 9 when 840 students made their way through the doors to enter another school year. The halls were once again filled with the joyous laughter and talk of students who looked forward to the coming year with great expectations. The rooms were filled with classes each wanting to make the year a success. For the first time in its history Perry High had a freshman class coming from the township grade schools. In the past years the freshman classes were seventh and eighth graders at Perry.

Like all schools, the leaders were members of the senior class which was the first graduating class to spend all four years in the halls of Perry.

The 194 senior students have grown to love Perry and have witnessed many firsts in its history. Having gained invaluable educational knowledge, the seniors moved to graduation, the most important step to the future and the reward to their long awaited goal.

The senior class had officers who were outstanding leaders and led their class to new levels of achievement. The officers were: (seated) Bruce Miller, president; Carole McCurdy, vice president; (standing) Bruce Robinson, treasurer; and Shelva Kinsinger, secretary.

SENIORS LEAD UNDERCLASSMEN

The senior graduating class of 1959-1960 is the first class to go the full four years at Perry. They have waited for four years to show the many other students just how much they could accomplish.

Aiding and leading the senior class were Bruce Miller, president; Carol McCurdy, vice president; Shelva Kinsinger, secretary; and Bruce Robinson, treasurer.

The senior class presented the senior class play entitled "The Bus Stops Here" on November 19, 20. They were also looking forward to graduation the following spring.

This year's graduating seniors and the many other classes that follow show signs of a great deal of leadership, character, initiative, co-operation and a willingness to do good for others.

Not bold or shy but a nice mingling of each.

Perry High students don't ordinarily dress like those appearing above. But gimmicks are necessary for promotion. And that's what Carole Diss, Carol McCurdy, Cynthia Trace, Jeff Tolin, Jon Valasek, Patsy Strobel and Terry Terret did. They're in the garb of beatnicks to promote The Panther's View dance to which subscribers were permitted free of charge.

PROM EXCITEMENT

LIFE in Perry's social activities is always culminated by the Junior-Senior Prom. The theme of the 1959 prom was "When You Wish Upon A Star." The music was furnished by Jack Halkides and his Orchestra. After the dance the party moved to the Canton YWCA for an evening of fun. The anti-climax of the prom was an all day picnic at Atwood Lake Park.

Upper left: Every one has to rest his feet. Bill Scheub and Joan Thom pause to listen to the music.
Lower left: Paula McFadden and Tom Murphy enjoy a laugh while dancing near the wishing well.
Lower right: Ron Wagner, Bev Watson, Terry Terrett and Don Studer pause by the lilac bushes and the swing.

TEACHERS AID STUDENTS

Life at Perry High was influenced by the faculty and administration.

The hub of our school, like any other school, is the high school office. The executive head and principal were always well informed on the activities concerning the school. The office was like a bee hive — always humming with activity.

Life at Perry ran smoothly because of the efficient and capable faculty. If a student was perplexed with a problem, the faculty would always take time out to help the student. Not only were the teachers there to aid with the problems of the students, but they were there as a friend when the student needed one most.

ADMINISTRATION

PAUL PFEIFFER
Executive Head, Perry Local Schools

Being an executive head of a school system is not an easy job. It almost necessitates that an individual have no home life. Seeing Mr. Pfeiffer at the numerous functions at Perry High, it almost seems impossible that he is home at all. And his presence was just as prevalent at all the schools in the district.

Mr. Pfeiffer received his AB degree from the College of Wooster. He received his Masters degree from Kent, and he has done further graduate work at Ohio State.

ROBERT FLANDERS
Principal

Mr. Flanders' job is one of great difficulty Being responsible for the well-being of 833 students and 1,666 parents can present numerous problems. A man of lesser talents could not handle his job.

Mr. Flanders holds an A.B. and Masters degree in education from Kent. He has also attended the Air University of Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Alabama.

MR. FRANK MULVANEY
Assistant Principal

Though only in his second year in an administrative post, Mr. Mulvaney is well known as an understanding assistant principal. As a disciplinarian, he is always fair, just and impartial. He is probably the most contacted administrator at Perry High.

He attended Washington and Lee University and received his A.B. degree from Waynesburg College. He received his Masters degree from West Virginia University and he attended Kent.

SOCIAL CLUBS

Life at Perry could not be fully developed without the formation of clubs and social organizations. They add a touch of gaiety to the monotonous routine of every day high school life and obtain for the student a better outlook on life.

Together with the pleasure that is derived from these organizations comes the development of character, personality and morals for the benefit of the student, his family and his school.

As the student matures and takes his place in society, he will realize the helpful experience and acceptance of responsibility gained from these clubs.

ARTISTS WIN HALLOWEEN CONTEST

The Art Club members work together to further develop their artistic talents. Each meeting is spent doing some phase of art work, visiting some nearby museum, or having speakers.

Among the projects this year were making posters for all the football and basketball games, constructing a giant panther mural to be used at pep rallies, and entering a window painting in the Amherst Shopping Center's Halloween Contest, which won a first place prize of $40. The outstanding event this year was a trip to Columbus at the end of the year. The art department and museum of Ohio State University were visited.

CHESS CLUB LEARNS NEW 'TRAPS'

The Perry High Chess Club had a very successful and interesting year. With Mr. Edel as faculty adviser the club learned many new strategies and traps to be used in tournament matches. They scheduled matches with other high school chess clubs in Stark County. Also an inter-school tournament was held.

The officers for the 1959-60 school year were Jon Valasek, president; Jeff Tollin, vice president; and Rodney Henning, secretary-treasurer.

Not only did the members learn how to play the game better, but each member developed his logic, and reasoning powers. So the Chess Club has a dual purpose: To entertain the members by providing a good hobby and to develop reasoning and logic which can be applied to many different situations in life.

F.T.A. PROMOTES TEACHING

Future Teachers of America strives to promote interest in teaching as a career by giving its members an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the teaching profession. This is done by promoting better understanding between teachers and students, and wherever possible, by giving future teachers some practical experience.

A few activities of the club include grading papers and serving as substitute teachers.

Once a junior or senior member has accumulated 200 or more merit points, which are given for service to the home, school, and community, he is given a F.T.A. pin.

A BIG DATE . . . A BIG NIGHT . . .

While everyone primped and dressed for the dance two couples visited Marlene Mattachione. Shirley Mathison, Terry Andorka, Dick Porrazzo and Mary Beth Mooch.

LIFE at an elaborate Christmas formal, sponsored by the GAA, took a lot of hard work and preparations. Committees were organized, responsibilities were taken, and many students devoted their spare time to make the dance one of the most memorable events of the school year. December 19 finally arrived and the decorating committee met at the school to add the finishing touches for the big night. Everyone arrived looking his very best. The lovely music of Errol Schlabach and his Orchestra, the stunning decorations, and the tasty refreshments, the picture taking antics, the rain outside, a stolen kiss, and the trips to the various restaurants were all a part of A Big Date . . . A Big Night. And all that remained in a forlorn looking gym was the crinkled crepe paper.

At the dance, Larry Lapel, Sandy Baxter, and Jack Yoho fill their plates. They enjoyed punch, cookies, and small sandwiches.

The couples danced to the music of Errol Schlabach and his orchestra. No matter how nice the dance or how good the music someone is bound to get sore feet. Randy Riddle and Pat LeMasters dance despite aching feet.

Above: No one can survive on small sandwiches and the such.

Side: This group digs into piles of spaghetti at the Four Winds and seem to be having the time of their lives.

Below: All must end, though, and the end is the sweetest. Mary Ann Boyd and Bill Davies kiss good night, ending a perfect evening and a perfect dance.

PEP RALLIES SPUR SCHOOL SPIRIT . . .

THE YEAR HAD MANY HIGHLIGHTS

After a school year has passed, do the students remember the long hours put in studying? Do they remember the difficulties that they had with the teachers or administration? Or do they remember those things that are pleasant in their minds?

It's natural to forget unpleasant memories; it's natural to remember those memories that leave a sweet smelling taste in our mouths.

We remember the boy with whom we went to the junior-senior prom. We remember the girl with whom we could never date, but always wanted to date. We remember the victories over our arch rivals. And we remember the first dance. And we remember the last pep rally, the last dance, the last hayride.

And in every year there are highlights. It's impossible to cite them all, and it's impossible to include every highlight in a book such as this. So we didn't try.

But we did include some. Do they bring back memories?

In years to come, will these all not be highlights of your days at Perry High?

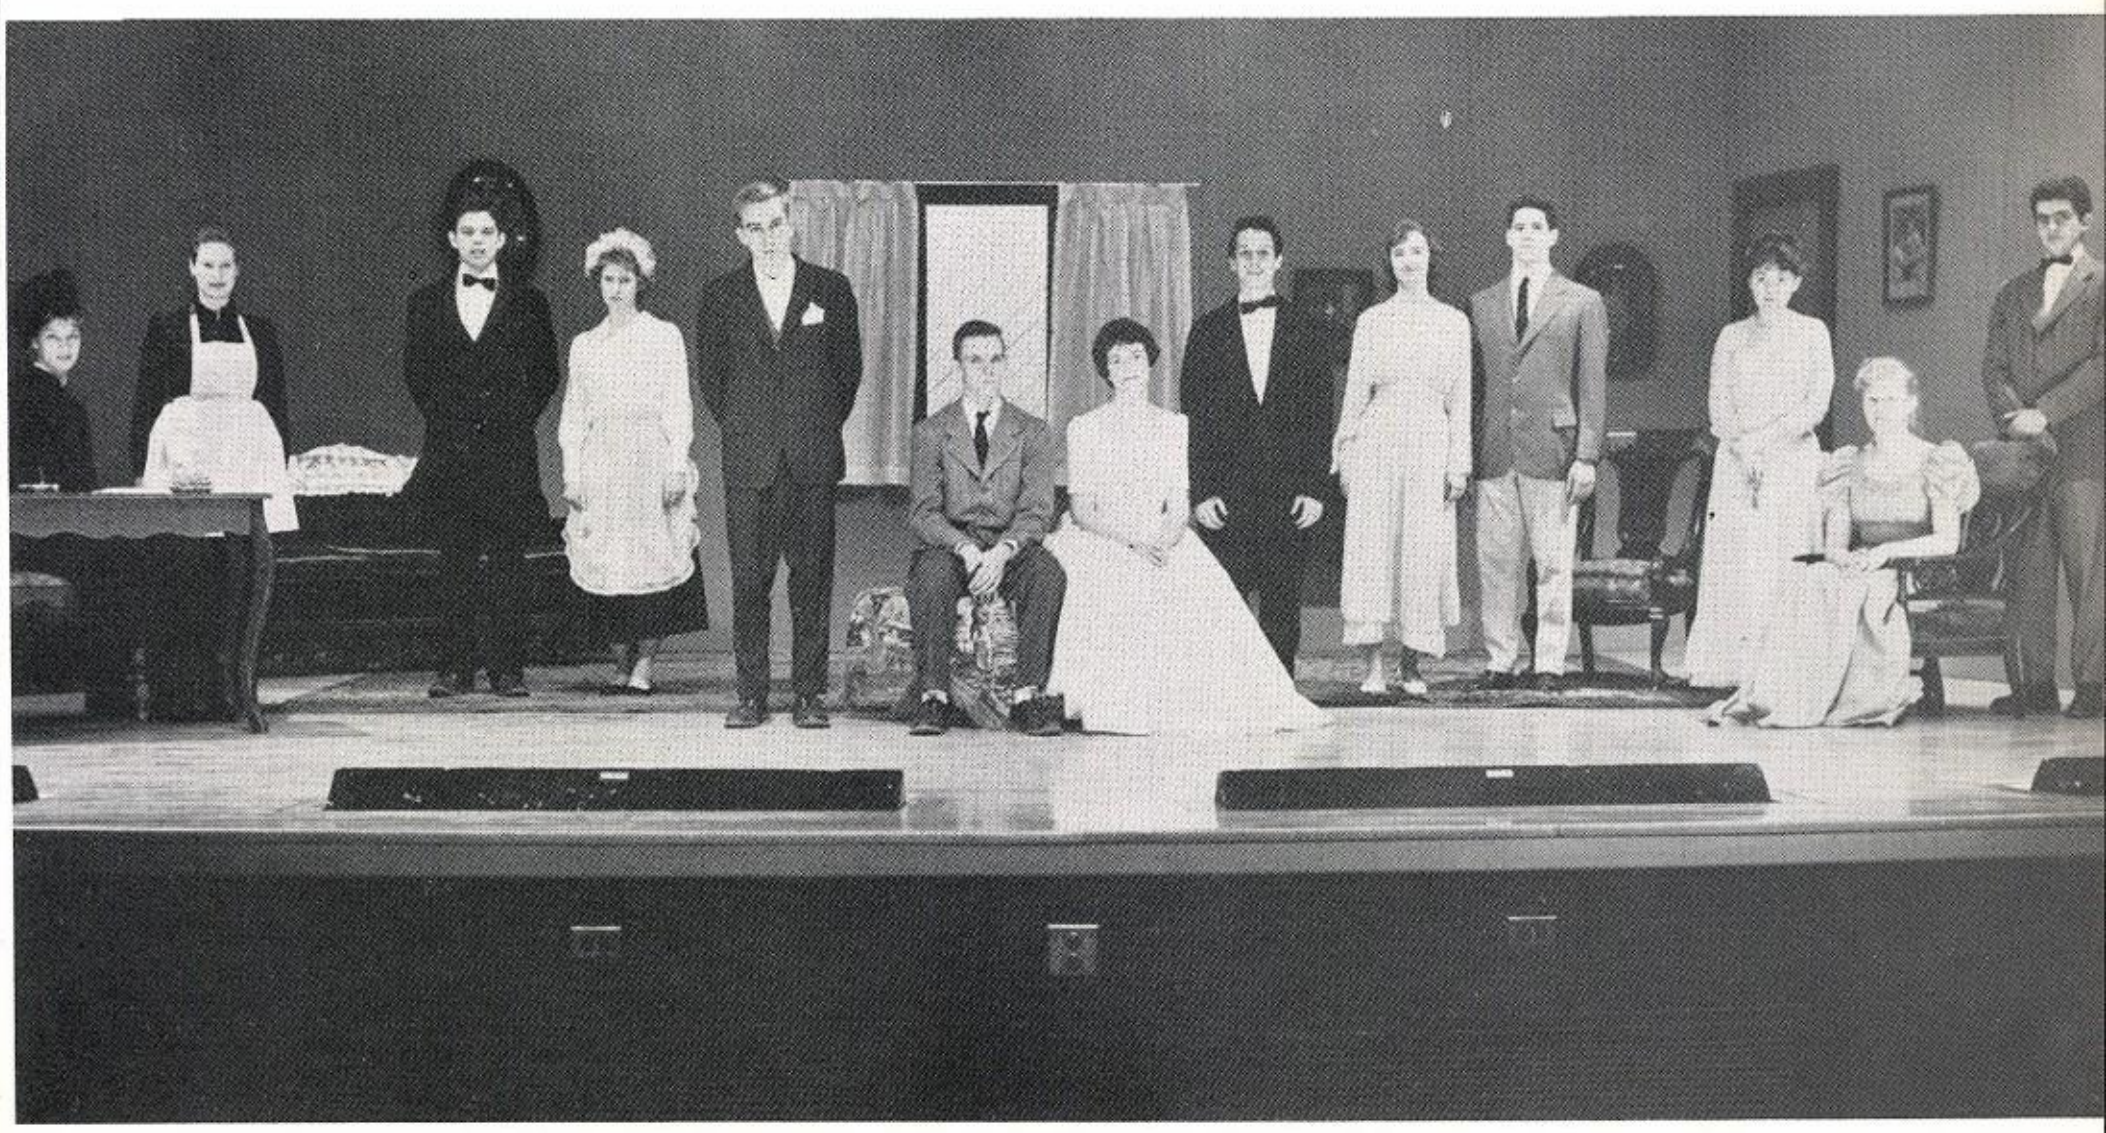
Right: During the Lehman game, Ron Kaylor scores the only touchdown of the game. This was Perry's first win over a Canton eleven; and the crowd was just as exuberant as the team in the victory. Earlier Perry scored a safety for the first two points.

The Senior Class Play, "The Bus Stops Here," was presented on November 19 and 20. It was directed by Mr. Frank Johnston. The cast included Beverly Watson, Bucky Scheub, David Kaeser, Jim Miller, David Halco, Winnie Moorehead, Edith Randels, Ruth Ann Bunton, Darryl Huff, Betsy Grissinger, Lee Gutheinz, Diane Radtke, Judy Rowley, and Carol Diss.

Under the direction of Miss Alice Jane Smith the Junior Class presented "Pygmalion" on February 4 and 5. The cast included Carol Rosa, Phyliss Sees, Norm Terrett, Norma Wechbacker, Dan Hoffman, Joe Wright, Kathy Olden, Mike Trace, Donna Pflug, Gary Witschy, Sharon Roth, Linda Sonnhalter, and Paul Addessi.



HIGHLIGHTS . . .

Left: During the half-time of the Lincoln-Perry game, Miss JoAnn Uhose, Perry High basketball queen of 1959, crowns the 1960 queen, Miss Carole McCurdy. Chosen by an overwhelming vote of the student body, Carole proved to be a popular candidate for the honor which was sponsored by the National Honor Society. Carole and her court were honored at a dance which was held on March 11.

Below: With both joy and sadness, graduation comes soon. As the Alma Mater is sung for the last time, tears, mingled with joy, heartache, and bewilderment, stream from the faces of many students. The cap and gown is worn with pride, and rightly so, by all members of the senior class. Graduation memories linger long as a highlight not only in a person's high school career, but as a highlight of life in general.

PHOTOGENIC CONTEST RUNS INTO SNAGS

This year the Photogenic Contest ran into a little difficulty. Dick Clark who was supposed to select the winners decided that it is not feasible to judge a contest based solely on pictures. Sandra Dee, the next choice, was too busy. But they were judged — by Hollywood photographers. And as usual, the judging was a difficult job!

Dear Mr. Mattachione:

Thank you for your letter of January 8, 1960, inviting Dick Clark to act as Judge for your Beauty Contest. Indeed, he is quite honored at your request. However, he does not think it would be feasible to judge a contest based solely on pictures forwarded to him. Therefore, Dick would rather pass up this opportunity, rather than make a possible error in judgement.

Again, thank you for your kind invitation.

Sincerely yours,

February 3, 1960

Dear Pat:

Sandra Dee is out of town on location so I, her secretary, am writing the liberty of answering your letter to her.

We have many, many requests such as yours to choose a winner for yesterday or other and as Sandra is working under a very heavy schedule we feel it wouldn't be fair for her to start voting, request and not others who want the same help.

Now, maybe we disappoint you and also be impartial in the selection I named the pictures over to the casting office as Universal-International's very well known in Hollywood to select the winners. This was a very difficult job especially shooting the boys -- all photograph very well -- after hours of elimination that finally came up with the winners. Sure they are.

Happy morning in your yearbook.

Barbara Jones and Lee Matthews.

Congratulations

Yours Attorney

AND THESE WERE HIGHLIGHTS TOO . . .

Seldom, if ever, does a school have a student who participates in the world famous Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena, California. But this year, Perry High was so honored. One of its seniors, Errol Schlabach (pictured at the left), won such an opportunity by playing his saxophone better than any other student in Northern Ohio. The contest was sponsored by the Independent Order of Foresters which sponsors the Robin Hood youth band in which Errol played. New Year's day 1960 will always be a highlight of Errol's high school career. It was a dream for Errol and it would have been a dream for any high school student!

The Panther's View sponsored Beatnik dance was a mistake since it emphasized a national movement that continually gains bad publicity. Although the purpose of the dance was to make fun or ridicule "the angry young men," it became the talk of every student. But it died. Enjoying some of the "cool jazz" in the school lobby are Lin Hoover, Mary Reed, Sandy Mathias, and Viky Grigsby.

SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

Life at Perry is aided by the service organizations and honorary clubs. The purpose of the members of these organizations is to give of their services to the school for the benefit of their fellow students.

With the formation of these groups, the high school is run like a machine, with each member having his own duty to perform. Just as the parts of a machine fulfill their purpose, these members fulfill their purpose within the school.

The glory comes to these members when their work is done. The honor they receive is determined by the acceptance of what they have done by the student body and faculty.

Starting with the first girl and going back, the girls are: Terry Rae Terett, Beverly Watson, Cynthia Trade, Barbara McNutt, Sherry Bradley, Patsy Strobel, Donna Pflug, Pat LeMasters.

BAND — COLOR FOR SCHOOL, COMMUNITY

Life at Perry was accented by the performance of the band. They kept school spirit up and fans cheering by playing at all nine football games and at pep rallies. They represented the school and community by performing at many holiday parades in the area. They also provided enjoyable entertainment by presenting a Christmas and Spring concert. The Band Parents Organization sponsored a community project by selling calendars to help pay for their uniforms. They also provide music for community festivals and homecomings. The final activity is the annual military ball held in April for band members and their dates.

CHOIRS ADD DIGNITY

The A Cappella Choir activities began this year with the first annual initiation of the underclassmen. This year continued with the choir's participation in the Christmas concert, seasonal assemblies for the student body, Stark County Music Festival, and district and state contests. They provided the finale for the Perry Township P.T.A. meeting attired in their new choir sweaters and emblems. Individual members found honor participating in the county, district and state contests; nine members were chosen to represent Perry in the select choir at the Stark County Music Festival.

The choir participated in fun(d) raising campaigns, selling candles, and collecting paper. Other activities included trips to Bucyrus and Wooster to hear choral concerts. The year ended in a swirl of singing for the Canton Council of Churches Lenten meeting, and the spring concert. Activities were climaxed by the choral ball.

GRIDDERS FIRST UNIFY — THEN WIN

Muddy practices paid off in four wins for the Panthers this season. Under the good coaching of Head Coach Jerry Wampfler, the team posted a 4-5 season record. The coaching staff was greatly strengthened by the addition of Backfield Coach Tom Winkhart and two freshman coaches, Art Carlson and Nick DeFrancesco. Spirit and mud molded the team into a strong, courageous unit which won three out of its last four games. The team was hindered this year by injuries; key lineman and backs were sidelined in a great majority of the games. Due to these injuries, the Panthers were classified as underdogs; but through determined effort, the team came out on top. Perry started the year with fan inexperienced backfield and a veteran line. But after a few games, the two elements were united to form a fighting machine. During the season the Panthers displayed the spark and desire to make a winning team. The Panthers came in second in the Class AA League, but the highlight of the season was the defeat which was handed to Canton Lehman. The team provided the fans with excitement winning games by a small margin of points.

PANTHER CAGERS GAIN EXPERIENCE

Although Coach Don Cable's cagers succeeded in winning only two games, during the past season, the team provided many thrills for the loyal fans who "stuck by" a losing team. Returning with only two lettermen, the 1959-1960 basketball team lacked polish, and height. In the Stark County AA League the Panthers faced some of the best competition in the County — teams that had polish, drive, and height.

The most important aspect of the basketball season was the fact that the inexperienced cagers gained that illusive experience that it so badly needed. By gaining experience, Coach Cable built for future years.

The Panthers played well, but not well enough to have a winning season. They had to bow out to teams with height advantages and with better ball handlers. But the team which had a tremendous amount of enthusiasm was no pushover. Going into practically every game as an underdog, Perry pulled some upsets whose memories linger only as a reminder that "Where there is a will, there is a way." Near the end of the season, the team made a strong spurt, but it too soon died but not without a good fight.

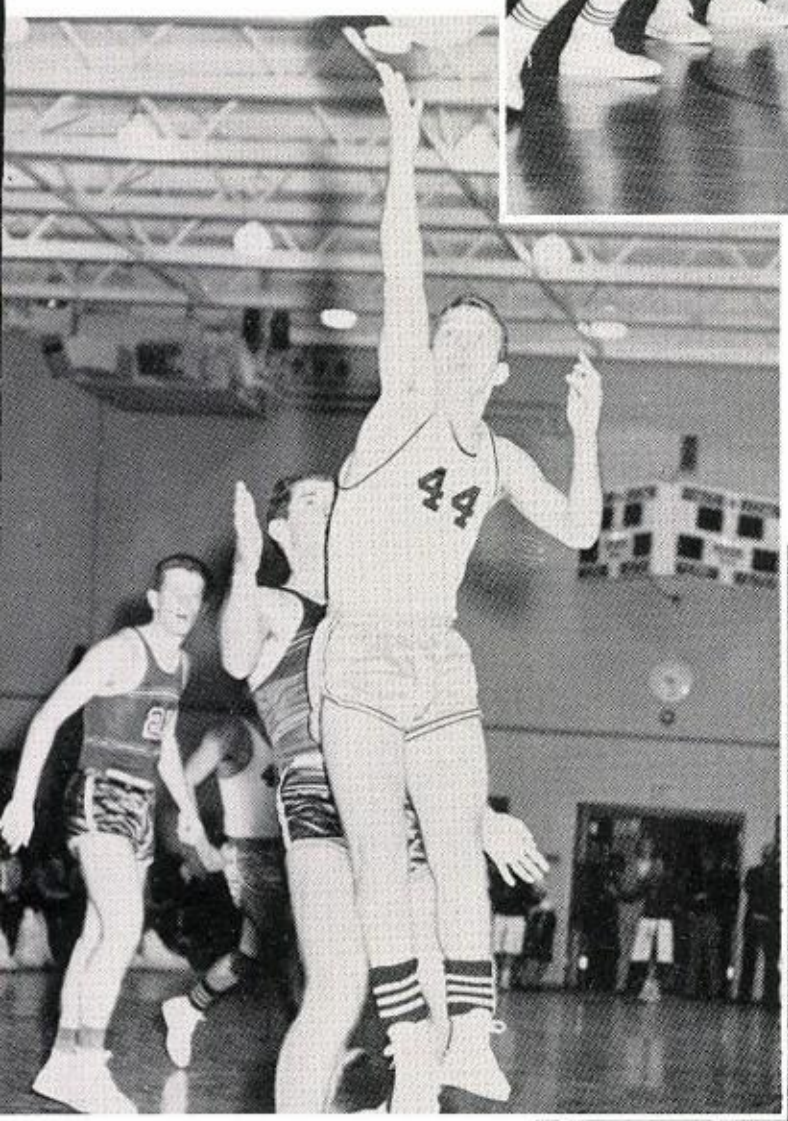
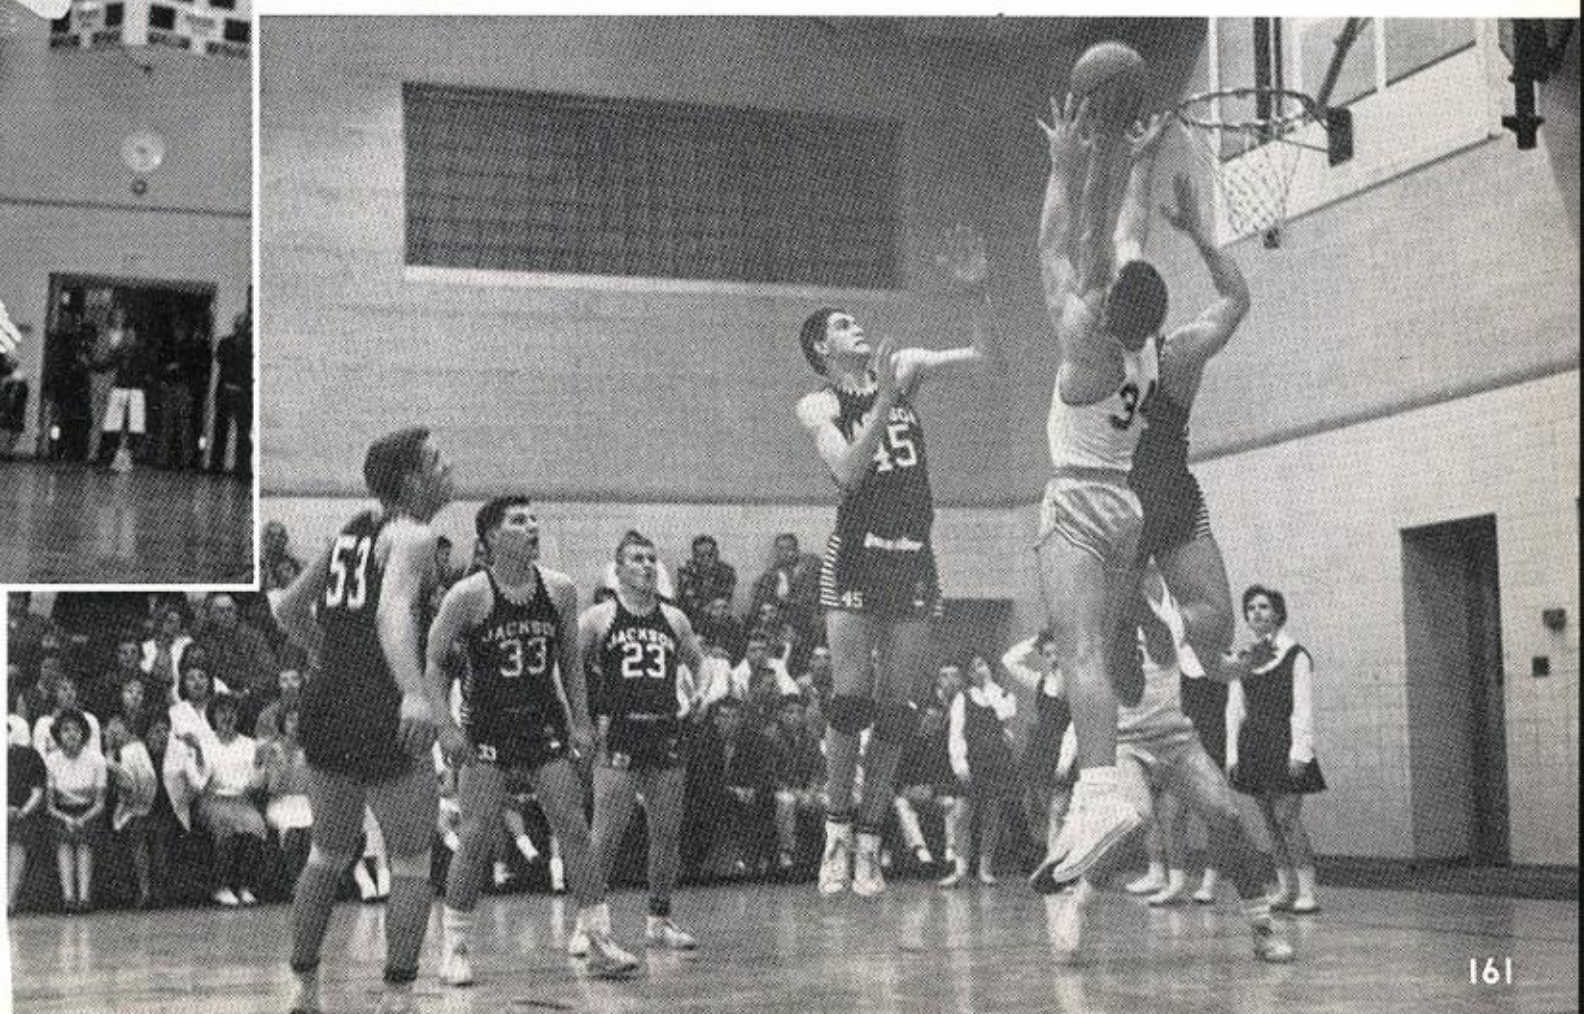
If the saying "Wait till next year!" means anything the Panthers have plenty to look forward to. Coach McDonald's team posted an 8-10 season record. A pooling of the reserve team and the returning varsity lettermen should design a team that will see the inside of the state capitol in the tourney.

Basketball managers for the year were Bob Ludwig, Dan Hoffman, and Jerry Lape. Below: Perry's Dick Nelson jumps against Sandy Valley's Bob Baxter at the center line to open the two teams cage seasons. Sandy won 65-51.



Left: Bob Phillips pots a jump shot as Central's Dick Probestle and Mark Enders loon on. Central copped the victory 59-35. Below: Ed Chaffin fights for a rebound in Perry's second meeting against Jackson as the Panthers upset the Bears 45-43 for their lone league victory.



PANTHER NINE HAS FINE SEASON

The motto "Experience and practice pays off" led the Panther nine to the first winning season in the school's history. Under the skillful coaching of Don Cable, Perry High had a fine 9-5 season record. Twelve lettermen returned to play excellent ball which is shown by a tremendous team batting average of .435, an almost errorless fielding average of .933, and an earned run average of 2.89. The team, which played together for the third consecutive year lost three of their games by one run and lost to the eventual district champions by one run.

Dave Lazor led the team in batting with an impressive .500 average followed by Bill Roland with a .410 average. Walt Viertel hurled a 4-1 and Ben Pierce pitched a 3-3 record, although Pierce had the best earned run average of 2.43 with Viertel a close second with 2.63.

Coach Cable hits the ball for infield practice.

The bench adds chatter to an exciting game.

CINDERMEN MAKE GOOD SHOWING

The 1959 track team got off with a bang last season. Between the sunny practices and the Stark County Class AA and Class A meet held at Mt. Union, the tracksters trotted all over the county and tackled five dual and one triangular meet.

Sixty-five prospective tracksters turned out for the first practice but by the end of the season Coach Hall had chopped the number to thirty-two.

The Perry Panther track team placed fifth in the Stark County relays, the following tracksters received honors in the two-day meet: Ron Sense, first, discus; second, broad jump and fourth in the shot put; Bruce Miller, second, half mile; John Veniski, fifth, 220-yard dash; mile relay team (John Veniski, Steve Galle, Bob Reynolds and Bob Phillips) placed fifth; half mile relay team (Ron Sense, Jack McKinney, Tom Schuler and Dennis Ross) placed fifth. Ron Sense, who is now a freshman at Kent State University, upheld the team standing all three years. Ron copped twelve points at Mt. Union for better than fifty percent of Perry's total points.

On your mark! Get set! Clear the track for Bruce Miller.

FROSH POST 2-2-1 RECORD . . .

The Perry Frosh, under the tutelage of new coaches Art Carlson, and Nick DiFrancisco posted a two win, two losses, and one tie record for the 1959-1960 school year. Posting wins over Sandy Valley, and East Canton, the frosh went down in defeat against Central Catholic, and the Navarre Reserves. A bitter tie was the 0-0 score between the Glenwood and Perry Frosh. Building for future years, the Perry Frosh show tremendous talent, and drive.

FROSH WIN, WIN AND WIN!

Coach Tom Winkhart wore a perpetual smile on his face all during basketball season.

When Varsity Coach Don Cable watched the frosh play, he too smiled.

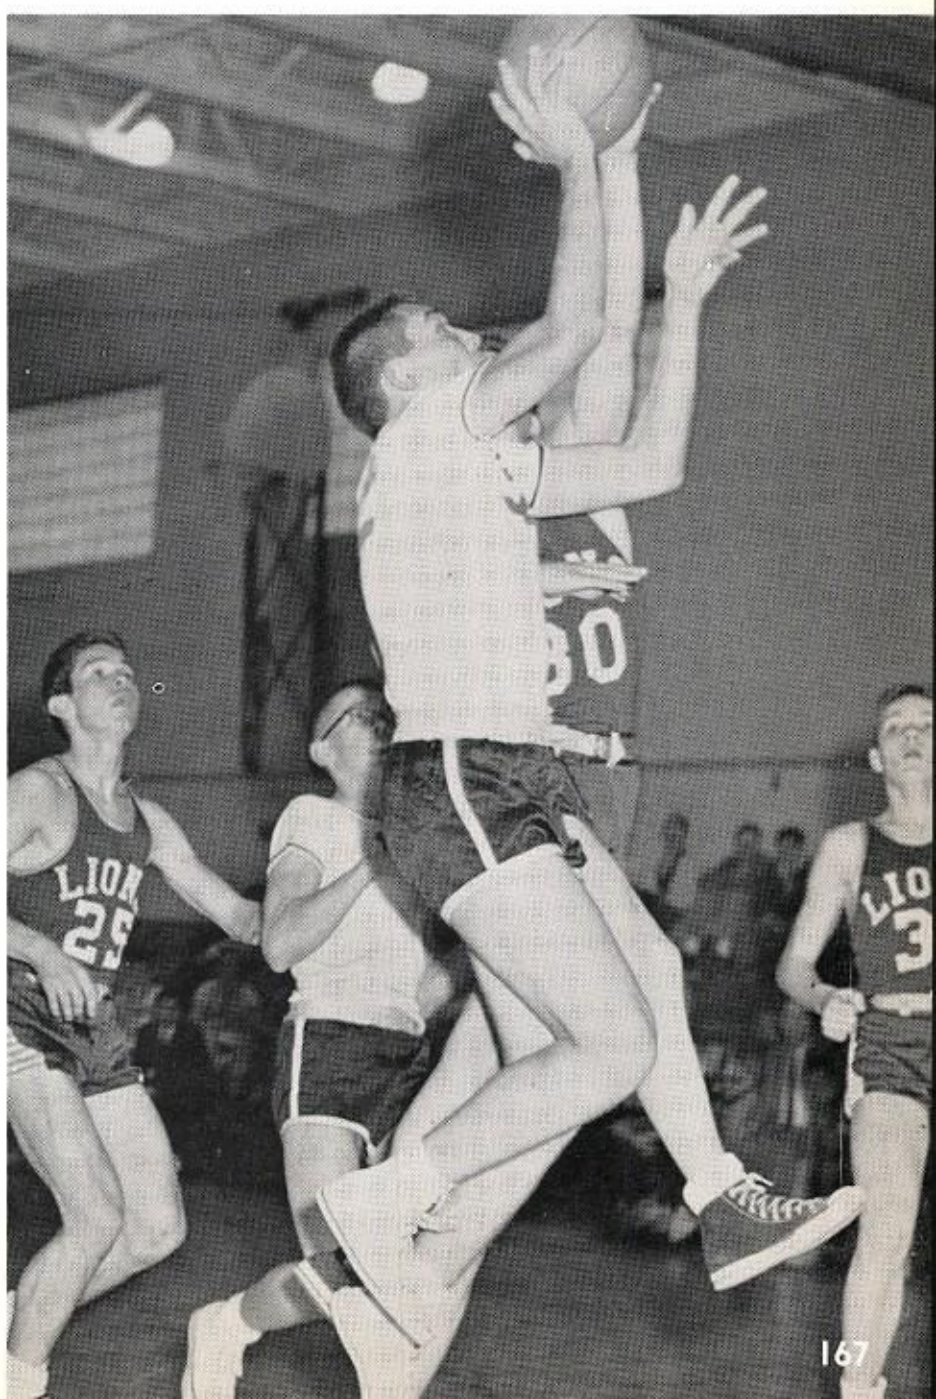
And do did Reserve Coach Bernard McDonald!

Not any of these were escapees from a state hospital, either. But the smiling stems from the fact that the freshmen had a winning season, showed a lot of potential, and kept improving with each game.

No wonder the coaches smiled!

Coach Winkhart's cagers had a 13-2 season. The two losses were incurred by teams whom the freshmen had previously defeated without showing any mercy.

In tournament play, the frosh went to the semi-finals before they went down to McKinley "A" which took the tournament.



Left: Bill Gravius goes up for a jump shot as Lincoln's Miller (25) and Walsh (31) look on. Perry's Keefer is in the action also. Perry won 41-31.

the panther's view

The Panther's View, under the capable editorship of junior Gary Witschy, has made great strides during the 1959-1960 school year. By changing from a slick, enameled paper to a regular letterpress type paper, the Panther's View became a much more professional publication. Professionalism was also demonstrated in good reporting, good layout, and good interest by all those who were involved in the publication of the school paper.

One of the most controversial columns in the "View" was the "View Supports" column. Through this column, Perry High saw the inauguration of a cultural lecture series. The frosh adopted the policy of having representatives from each room participate in a class meeting rather than have a mass meeting of every class member.

Among other things that the "View" accomplished during the year was the winning of a National Certificate of Honor from the National Tuberculosis Association for its participation in the high school press project. Judy Rowley won a first place award for her article on TB.

But the most important function of the Panther's View was the support of all school functions through wide publicity.

THE CLOCK MEETS DEADLINES . . .

The yearbook staff, composed of twenty-one members, started its work for this year's book early in summer. The regular meetings which were held at Judy Rowley's house usually ended with refreshments. Selling ads was the first main project undertaken by the staff. Each person was assigned a certain area of Stark County and each individual was requested to sell $100 worth of advertising. The goal wasn't met, but the staff did come close.

After most of the business portion of the yearbook was almost completed, the long tedious job of making arrangements for pictures, setting up schedules, and deciding on the types of pictures came to the forefront. When the pictures came back from the photographer, the monumental job of identifying each student began. Deadlines pressed nearer and the pressure mounted. "Write a cutline for this picture!" "Find out who this freshman is." "You gotta do this page over!" And numerous other remarks were heard throughout the publication room. No sooner was a deadline met, than another one was sticking out its ugly head. Deadlines! Deadlines! Deadlines!

Then the book had to be sold. "Did enough people buy a book so that we can go ahead with our plans?" "Are we gonna have color?" "I don't like that picture." "Let's have it retaken!" And the comments continued to mount. "Do you think the kids will like the book?"

That's for the students to tell. But it was quite a job. Phew!

Above: Members of the Clock Staff are: Jane Kracker, Terry Terrett, Sue Wycoff, Cynthia Trace, Ruth Ann Bunton, Mrs. Evelyn McNutt, Carol McCurdy and Gretchen Obermiller.

And within these walls is where the staff of 1959-60 compiled the "Clock." Long hours were spent here striving to meet many goals. And a few other things happened here also . . .
